MARK STAMBACH, being duly sworn, deposed and says:

1. I am a Detective with the Buffalo Police Department assigned to the Homicide Division.

2. I participated in the investigation Paul Pope's murder.

3. On April 17, 1998, I took a statement from Wymiko Anderson, Paul Pope's girlfriend.

4. During this interview the only people present were myself, my partner at the time Detective James Giardina, and Anderson. It has been my practice over my past twelve years in Homicide to conduct interviews with only a witness and my partner in the room.

5. During my conversation with Anderson she never mentioned that Paul Pope told her Russell Montgomery killed Tomika Means.

6. If she had given this information to me it would be my practice to generate a P-73 and place in within the Epps file.

I would then notify the Homicide Detective in charge of that investigation.

7. The P-73's I generated from my contacts with Anderson on April 16, 1998 and April 20, 1998 make no reference to any statement implicating Montgomery in the Means murder.
